

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Major General Gagandeep Bakshi SM, VSM or G. D. Bakshi (born 1950 in Jabalpur) is a retired Indian army officer. He was awarded the Vishisht Seva Medal for commanding a battalion in operations in Kargil. Later, he was awarded the Sena Medal for distinguished service. He is a prolific writer on matters military and non-military and has published 36 books and over 200 papers in many prestigious research journals. His articles have also been published in various National Newspapers. Bakshi is a regular on Prime Time in debates on Indian Television.

ABOUT THE BOOK

BOSE OR GANDHI

This book seeks to answer a seminal question about Nation state formation in Post colonial India, "Who got us our Freedom and how?" Was it due to the violence of Bose and His INA- or was it due to the peaceful and non-violent agitation of Mahatma Gandhi? Where we are going depends a lot on where we came from. The author has painstakingly analysed the documents now available in the British transfer of Power Archives.
