NE to host Karnataka theatre

ABDULGANI

Guwahati: The Indira Gandhi National Centre for Arts, regional centre, Bangalore, in collaboration with the North Eastern Regional Centre, Guwahati, is organising Dakshin Spoorthi, which is a part of the Northeast cultural exchange programme, here and in Imphal.

Under this programme, Yakshagana, a theatre form of Karnataka, which combines dance, music, dialogue, costume, make-up, and stage techniques with a unique style, will be performed here on Monday, Tuesday and March 28 and in Imphal on Friday and Saturday.

Plays Vaali Moksha, Gadha Yuddha and Seetapaharana will be staged here while Seetapaharana and Gadha Yuddha will be staged in Imphal, a release said.

"The spirit of Karnataka travels to the Northeast through this cultural tour. The goal of such an initiative

Yakshagana artistes is to raise awareness about regional arts of India to help forge strong ties based on mutual understanding and appreciation," said an official.

Keremane Shivarama Hegde, a renowned artiste and founder of the troupe, Idagunji Mahaganapati Yakshagana Mandali, Keremane, will participate in the South-Northeast cultural exchange programme with his Yakshagana team.

The troupe, which was established in 1934, has a colourful history of more than 80 years.
