

Professor Najaf Haider an Oxford graduate, Najaf Haider is an eminent scholar of medieval Indian history. Currently, a faculty member at the Centre of Historical Studies, JNU, Prof. Haider has worked extensively on the medieval economic history and literary culture of the Mughal court and the history of Delhi. His expert knowledge on the Medieval Indian State with specialization in the Mughal period therefore holds an important position in our storytelling session.