

IGNCA
Great Masters Series

Adoor Gopalakrishnan

Bhoomiyil Chuvadurachu
(Feet upon the ground)

Synopsis

The creative self of the Master gets explored through self-reflections, memories and conceptual interventions. Two strands of Adoor Gopalakrishnan's artistic becoming over the decades: queries about sociocultural reality and search for the significant cinematic form, have been braided and positioned again and again, to sense that the questions of life and questions of form ultimately got merged one into the other.

Director's Note

The film primarily presents the Master in spaces relating to his past and present, within diversely constructed cinematographic situations and scrutinies. Within the interstices of the guided tour of Adoor Gopalakrishnan's creative topography by the Master himself, his artistic preoccupations are being hinted in materialized form by unusual folding of some of the cinematic elements and sequences across the rich tapestry of his works.
