

'The Magic of Making,' the IGNCA film on renowned artist-scholar Shri K G Subramanyan was released on 16 December 2014 at Vadodara. The DVD was released by Member Secretary, IGNCA Ms Dipali Khanna and the first copy presented to the artist, who has made Vadodara his home.

Speaking on the occasion, Ms Khanna said, “Manida is a multi faceted personality. An artist who works on various medium. More than being an artist, a scholar and art historian, he is a teacher. His students are spread all over the world. He has been interacting with budding artists, eager learners and committed students for over three decades. That’s what distinguishes him from most other artists. He engages with them, gently guiding them, without probably their knowing it. Shantiniketan and MS University have benefitted from his presence.”

Shri Subramanyan said, “I am happy that the IGNCA made this film and chose to release it in Vadodara.” He emphasised on the need for continuing support of the government to culture and art institutions so that they may work towards nurturing the vast heritage of the country.

The film, director by renowned filmmaker Gautam Ghose is 103-minutes long and essays the journey of the artist, through his work and conversations with him.
