"Music for Harmony 2019" is a part of the NADD Foundation's multi-city classical music fest of "Concert for Harmony". The NADD, which came into being in 2007, has been relentlessly promoting harmony and peace through Indian classical music. In fact, this "Concert for Harmony" is an annual programme for the NADD Foundation and every year, the music lovers await the return of this concert. Well-known names from the classical music fraternity perform at the "Concert for Harmony" – a multi-city tour, which has been in place since 2015. Pt Durjay Bhaumik of NADD says, "The multi-city classical music fest is being organised since 2015. Music transcends all borders and connects to any soul irrespective of the religion. That's the beauty of music. And Indian classical music, which has a history of nearly 400 years, brings together the people. During performance, we don't see artists of which religion is playing the Tabla. Our concert promotes peace and harmony. India is a peace-loving nation and we have always found great appreciation for this concert wherever we have gone."

Lets join us to spread the awareness of music for peace & harmony.
