

Short Profile of the Speaker

Prof. Vijendrakumar Narendraprasad Shukla

Prof. Vijendrakumar Narendraprasad Shukla is Associate Director and Professor in the C-DAC Noida and heads Speech & Natural Language Processing lab. Prior to joining current Organization, he served as Assistant Professor / Lecturer in various academic institutions linked with University of Pune , Marathwada University , University of Bombay and I.I.T.Roorkee. Prof. Shukla started his career in teaching way back in 1982 and has a total experience of about 28 years. He received his M. Tech. (Computer Science & Technology) from University of Roorkee . He has a number of research publications at International and National level to his credit. He is a member of various professional bodies like IETE, IEEE, ISTE. He was Manager W3C India office. He worked as a Convener of the National Committee on Technology Development in Indian Languages (TDIL) set up by the Department of Information Technology, Government of India. He is consortia leader for English to Indian Language Machine Translation Project awarded by TDIL unit of Department of Information Technology, Govt. of India. He was conferred the 1st IETE-Brig M L Anand Award for his outstanding contribution in the field of I.T. His teaching and research subjects include Digital library and Archiving, Data Mining, Formal Computing, Software Engineering, Object Oriented Software Engineering, Multilingual Computing, Geomatics, e-governance & Open Source Technology. He is an initiator of the formulation of curriculum for M.Tech. Language Technology and M.Tech Linguistic Computing Programmes.