

Mrs HUREAU Sylvie

Studies:

1992 MA East Asian Studies (Chinese)

2003 PhD East Asian Studies

Thesis: « Kumārajīva (env. 344-413), conseiller des princes, traducteur et instigateur d'une orthodoxie bouddhique en Chine » (Kumārajīva (ca. 344-413), advisor of princes, translator and initiator of a Buddhist orthodoxy in China).

All in France.

2006 Post Doc fellowship at the International College for Postgraduate Buddhist Studies (Tokyo)

Occupation:

2004 Assistant Professor Chinese (INALCO, France)

since 2006 Assistant Professor Religious Studies (Ecole Pratique des Hautes Etudes, France)

Latest publications (articles in English):

2006 : « Preaching and translating on poṣadha days: Kumārajīva's role in adaptating an Indian ceremony to China », Journal of the International College for Postgraduate Buddhist Studies 10, (Tokyo), p. 86-118.

2009: "Translations, Apocrypha, and the Emergence of the Buddhist Canon", in John LAGERWEY (ed.), Early Chinese Religion Part II. The Period of Division (220-589 AD), Leiden, Brill, p. 741-774.

2009: "Buddhist Rituals", in John LAGERWEY (ed.), Early Chinese Religion Part II. The Period of Division (220-589 AD), Leiden, Brill, p. 1207-1244.